

Dr Latif Ndeketa is a Vaccine Epidemiologist. He has a medical degree from the College of Medicine, University of Malawi, a Masters in Vaccinology and Drug Development from the University of Siena, Italy and a Masters in Epidemiology from the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, UK.

As an individual consultant, he also provides technical support to the WHO AFRO region. His current role is to facilitate and support the delivery of COVID-19 vaccines to all countries in the WHO AFRO region. As a researcher based at the Malawi-Liverpool Wellcome Trust In Malawi, he works on strategies that contribute to reduction of morbidity and mortality of vaccine preventable diseases in low-income settings.